

E'Casanova retires

Tuesday, 31 July 2007

Yesterday E'Casanova, one of the best Michael Jackson's Tribute Artists, released a shocking statement:

For Those Who Care.

Recently I've been diagnosed with a (non sexual) life threatening illness.

My concerts on September 1&2 in Las Vegas and the others that take me to the end of the year will be last and final shows ever.

At my doctors request, sadly I must retire.

I do hope to meet some of you who have shown me so much support throughout my life as a Michael Jackson Tribute Artist. The ones that have seen me in person. I hope that I have inspired you and touched your lives in a positive way.

All I ever wanted to do was to forever recreate the magic and protect the integrity of our international treasure.... "The Last Of The Great Song & Dance Men"... my friend , Michael Jackson I hope to see you in September!

Sincerely,
E'Casanova

Team MJJForum wishes the very best for E' Cassanova. You are in our hearts and prayers!
